DENVER COMPOST CHALLENGE

DON’T WASTE THE GOOD STUFF: START COMPOSTING NOW

IDEAS FOR PUBLICITY AT THE NEIGHBORHOOD LEVEL

Be sure to make your marketing fun and relevant. Use personal stories and information about the benefits of composting. Craft a message that fits your community!

01. If you have a website or social media page, make an announcement about the Denver Compost Challenge and link to the challenge website at DenverGov.org/Compost.

02. Join the Facebook Group at Facebook.com/groups/DenverCompostChallenge and use the hashtag #DenverCompostChallenge.

03. Use your Neighborhood Association or Green Team email list. Don’t know your neighborhood organization? Find it at denvergov.org/RNO.

04. Advertise the challenge and information about composting on social media such as NextDoor, Facebook, Instagram, Twitter, etc. Check out these example posts you can copy and paste.

05. Contact your local neighborhood newsletters or newspapers to get a letter or article published.

06. Post fliers on public noticeboards and in local businesses in the neighborhood.

07. Distribute compost resources and information in your neighborhood through the use of door to door campaigns, tabling events, or speaking at community gatherings.
